Story

Anima Equal came together in 2003 in Cingoli, a hill town in the Italian region of Marche. The band began as a music workshop backed by the local council, set up so that musicians who had settled there from Senegal could play alongside players from the town itself.

What was conceived as a way of making room for newcomers turned into a working band, and it has stayed one. Dine Mboup sings and plays rhythm guitar; the sound around him is Afrosoul — West African roots running through blues, reggae and funk.
